OLD BUSINESS

NEW BUSINESS Mike Broderick brought up a new software product called e-clubhouse. This software costs $120 a year. It will allow players to enter scores information like number of puts, chips etc for analysis of ones game. Also will allow tournament signup, tournament calendar and paying for tournaments. Some clubs use it as there men's club web-site. Bob Quinlan and pat McKinley offered to look into the product.

Donal Riley wanted to thank the H. Smith Richardson Men's Club and members on behalf of the family of Nick Badenhurst for their overwhelming show of support during the very difficult time for the family.

Ralph Butera announced the untimely passing of the latest men's club award winner Al Wage. He motioned that the men's club purchase a plaque and present it to Al's widow on behalf of the H. Smith Richardson Men's Club.

There being no further business to come before the board the meeting adjourned at 8:00 P.M.
